JAL and JTB's New Project to Promote Regional Japan

– Encouraging Foreign Visitors to Explore Japan's Diverse Local Attractions in Conjunction with the Expo 2025 Osaka, Kansai, Japan –

JTB Corp. (Headquarters: Shinagawa-ku, Tokyo; President and CEO: Eiji Yamakita, hereinafter “JTB”), Japan Airlines Co., Ltd. (Headquarters: Shinagawa-ku, Tokyo; President and Group CEO: Mitsuko Tottori, hereinafter “JAL”), J-AIR Co., Ltd. (Headquarters: Ikeda City, Osaka Prefecture; President: Shunsuke Honda, hereinafter “J-AIR”), and Japan Air Commuter Co., Ltd. (Headquarters: Kirishima City, Kagoshima Prefecture; President: Masayoshi Takei, hereinafter “JAC”) are launching a co-creation project to attract inbound foreign visitors, who are concentrated in urban areas, to various regions of Japan, thereby promoting regional revitalization.

The number of foreign visitors to Japan in 2024 is expected to reach 36.87 million (*1), exceeding the previous record of 2019 by approximately 5 million, setting a new annual record. However, many of these visitors are concentrated in a few cities such as Tokyo, Kyoto, and Osaka, and overtourism in some areas is a serious issue, causing excessive congestion, poor manners, and impacts on local residents, as well as reduced satisfaction among travelers.

To address these issues, JTB and JAL will utilize domestic regional routes, which are underused by foreign visitors to Japan, to develop tours that allow visitors to experience the diverse cultures, rich tourist resources, and hidden attractions of various regions scattered throughout Japan. This effort aims to promote the decentralization of foreign visitors to Japan and contribute to regional revitalization, economic effects, and job creation.

As the first step of this initiative, JTB and JAL will begin selling tours from Tuesday, March 25, targeting foreign visitors to Japan for the Expo 2025 Osaka, Kansai, Japan (the Expo). These tours include stays in the Osaka and Kansai area where the Expo is being held, as well as tours using domestic regional routes operated by JAL Group's J-AIR and JAC departing from and arriving at Osaka Itami Airport.

Further expansion of the product lineup is planned for future initiatives.
